Attlee Offers 6-Point Plan for Indian Union

LONDON, May 16.—(CP)—A six point plan for a Federal Union of India was announced in the House of Commons today by Prime Minister Attlee.

PUBLISHED AS A government white paper, the plan was drawn up by a three-man cabinet mission to India following its unsuccessful negotiations for Indian leaders themselves to formulate a plan for Indian independence and an interim government to rule while the new constitution was being drafted and adopted.

The plan set forth these six points:

1. ESTABLISHMENT of a Federal Union of India embracing both what is known as British India and the 600 princely states of India; the Union government to have control of foreign affairs, defence and communications and the power to raise money for those purposes.
2. A central executive branch and an all-India legislature. Any major

Upheld by Court Lunan Refuses to Give Testimony

OTTAWA, May 16.—(CP)—Chief Justice J. C. McRuer today ruled that he would not hold Gordon Lunan in contempt of court for refusing to testify at the espionage trial of Edward Mazerall, former National Research Council engineer.

The chief justice made this decision after first telling Lunan, alleged head of a cell of Russian spies, that nothing he said would be used in his own trial.

LUNAN SAID he had elected to remain silent because of the nature of Canada's spy probe, the publicity given it and "speculations by Igor Gouzenko," former Russian embassy clerk. Because of these things, he had felt he would be found guilty before his case was even tried before a jury, such as that trying Mazerall.

Inspector Mazerall, who had already declined to testify in preliminary hearings of two espionage suspects and was once held in contempt of court at Montreal.

MAZERALL HAS been named by the royal commission on espionage.

Workers Return At 2 Alta. Mines

DRUMHELLER, May 16.—(CP)—Miners of Brilliant mine, who have been on strike since Monday, returned to work this morning.

The men walked off the job when operators refused to provide outcrop pits for them in the mine.

The dispute ended Wednesday night when the company agreed to provide the cap pieces as requested.

AT MERCER, southwest of Edmonton, 200 miners returned to work this morning after walking out last Monday in a dispute over the employment of one man in a dual capacity. The matter will be negotiated on the terms of the agreement with mine operators.

Canadian Prospector Makes Rounds in New York City

Chorus Cuties, Big City Life Dull for Bushman

By DAVID C. WHITNEY

NEW YORK, May 16.—(CP)—A Canadian prospector who brought him $100,000 in $50 bills and $250,000 in mining stock set out to see the sights of New York today with only $50 in his pocket.

THAT WAS ALL the Canadian government would let him bring across its border.

Life for Arsenault was simple even in the big city.

He did not think much of night clubs.

He had not found anyone he would want to marry.

The water around New York only made him homesick for Bear Lake.

He wanted to be allowed to go to bed early.

"SO FAR I HAVEN'T had to spend a penny," he said, "everyone seems to want to impress me by spending his—I don't know why."

Housing Parley Opens in City

City commissioners and City Architect Maxwell C. Dewar conferred Thursday afternoon with Hon. A. J. Hooke, minister of economic affairs, and other provincial government officials on the continuance of construction of suites or homes from surplus materials available from the DeWinton airport and Dawson Creek, B.C.

At Monday night's city council meeting the city commissioners were instructed to meet with provincial government authorities and from other provinces had registered up to noon Thursday.

Mr. Hooke told briefly how the tourist trade has grown to its present size since the automobile was invented and described how tourists act as goodwill ambassadors between countries.

HE STATED that the purpose of the conference was to coordinate the efforts throughout the province towards helping the tourist industry in Alberta.

Delegates were welcomed to the conference by Mayor Harry Ainlay. In a brief talk he told of the difficulties that face the city in setting up auto camps. He said, "In spite of the fact that the city still owns

No Freight Rates Conference Likely

Premiers of Canada's western provinces are not likely to call a conference to combat the threatened submission by the railway companies for an increase in freight rates, according to Premier Ernest Manning Thursday.

"WE HAVE ALREADY expressed our views on the question," Mr. Manning said, "and we are proceeding with the preparation of our case."

Mr. Manning revealed that he and the premiers of Saskatchewan and Alberta had conferred with Prime Minister Mackenzie King and with officials of the government on the problem of prairie freight rates, while they were in Ottawa attending the Dominion-Provincial conference.

THE PROPOSAL was disclosed shortly after the two brotherhoods announced that they would remain in effect for all roads except the Illinois Central, which is under government operation.

WINNIPEG, May 16.—(CP)—The food distributors of Manitoba announced today they would urge repeal of the government ban on manufacture and sale of margarine.

No Detailed Lists Kept by RCAF Destroyed Equipment Records Unavailable

By VICTOR MACKIE

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, May 16.—Tracking down the type and cost of equipment destroyed by the RCAF on its stations last year, the members of the parliamentary committee on war expenditures were stymied Thursday when informed by an air force official that no detailed list of such equipment existed and could not be compiled.

HOWEVER, the RCAF will produce at a later meeting of the committee a list of equipment turned over to War Assets Working from that basis the committee members hope to arrive eventually at some sort of picture of the kind and cost of material destroyed.

Members of parliament from Alberta informed the committee that newspaper stories regarding the amount of equipment destroyed by bulldozers and other means in airfields in that province had aroused the people in their constituencies. They were constantly

Mayor Ainslay stated that residents of certain districts objected when they heard that auto camps were to be built in their community. "They don't seem to have much conception of just how nice an auto camp can be," declared the mayor.

Both Mayor Ainslay and Mr. Hoque expressed the idea that they are not prepared at present for an influx of tourists and we should let the tourists know how the situation is in regard to roads and accommodation, and also let them know the proposed plans for the future.

DAN E. CAMPBELL, director of tourist publicity for the provincial government, outlined the proceedings of a meeting held last December, when a set of tourist camp regulations were drafted.

Those elected to the resolution committee were: Charles M. Grant, Col. Walter Kerr, Tom Aird and C. K. Walker. The finance committee consisted of D. Mackay, J. Layden and N. Burch.

Quebec, one in New Brunswick and two in Nova Scotia.

The topographical survey will have 86 parties in the field. Twelve will work in New Brunswick, 11 in Nova Scotia, two in Quebec, three in Ontario, one in Saskatchewan, four in Alberta and three in the Northwest Territories.

The national museum also will have four parties out—two in Quebec, one in Yukon and one in Alberta and British Columbia.

Work in British Columbia will include further studies in the Pinchi Lake Mercury belt and coal deposits in the Ashcroft and Nanaimo-Comeau areas.

IN ALBERTA, geological parties will concentrate on mapping areas considered favorable to accumulation of petroleum and natural gas.

In Saskatchewan detailed investigations are planned for radioactive ore bodies in the Lake Athabasca area near the Box mine, while the Film-Flex area will be the focal point of geological investigations in Manitoba.

Inspector G. J. Duncan, commanding the Peace River district for the B. C. Provincial Police, was in Edmonton today on his way back to his headquarters after a visit to headquarters of the force in Victoria, B.C.

being asked to explain why and how much equipment was rendered useless.

"WE WANT A LIST of all equipment destroyed by the RCAF," said A. L. Smith, (PC-Calgary West). Another Alberta member, F. D. Shaw, (SC-Red Deer), claimed that many items which would have been of educational value had been destroyed at the air stations.

Group Captain Victor Millard, supply officer, maintenance command headquarters RCAF, told the committee, "It is not possible to produce an accurate list."

He explained that when the air force received instruction from War Assets to "produce" its equipment it was physically destroyed and what was placed on a scrap heap intact was not available in a breakdown on air force records.

HE ADDED that the term to "produce equipment" was the air force term for scrapping equipment.

"No list was kept of equipment destroyed by the RCAF," said Group Capt. Millard. "The regulations only required the air force to keep a list of equipment reduced in production or placed on the scrap heap which embraced equipment physically destroyed."

THE COMMITTEE will be provided with a list of equipment placed on the scrap heap or "reduced to production" by the force.

His efforts to place evidence before the war expenditure committee now sitting in Ottawa investigating the disposal of surplus war assets, were met with a request that he place his evidence before a member of the committee in writing before his submissions would be entertained, according to Arthur Wray, Social Credit M.L.A. for Banff-Cochrane, who is in Edmonton this week.

MR. WRAY'S VISIT to the city is motivated by a desire to improve road facilities in his constituency. He spent Thursday morning with officials of the department of public works.

Mr. Wray doubts the advisability of submitting his evidence on destruction of surplus air force equipment at the Penhold airport to the committee in writing. But he said he is prepared to go to Eastern Canada at his own expense later in the season and give his evidence at public meetings there.

THE WAR EXPENDITURE committee, with representatives from all political parties in the House of Commons, is now holding sessions in the Canadian capital under the chairmanship of Gordon B. Lano (Lib.-Halifax).

Spy Trial

Russian document today as a man who gave "fairly valuable information" but was never developed as an agent in a Russian espionage network in Canada.

A defence headquarters spokesman said Col. J. H. Jenkins, 45, OBE, had been director of military operations and planning since 1942. Igor Gouzenko, former cipher clerk at the Russian embassy, identified the document as a telegram Col. Nicolai Zabolin, former military attaché, had prepared but never sent to Moscow.

The telegram inferred that Moscow had wrongly applied the "characteristics" of "Dick" to Jenkins.

Testifying in the espionage case of Edward Maseras, 30, former naval research council engineer, Gouzenko said "Dick" and "Jack" were cover names for a colonel and lieutenant colonel at military headquarters here.

The telegram on Jenkins—a "real name," Gouzenko said—said he was not a "candidate for development" although "good business relations had been established" with him. "From him," Zabolin wrote, "I got fairly valuable materials as for example I received from him a series of materials on the tasks mentioned in your telegram No. 10621."

"I HAVE NEVER planned to develop him as he is a reserve officer and must soon retire... up to the present there has not been an occasion when Jenkins has refused us anything whatsoever." A main reason for not developing him was that his successor would not be so good.

Testifying in Ontario supreme court for a third day, Gouzenko did not give the names of "Jack" and "Dick."

A document indicated they were given cover names in a stage of trying to develop them as agents, but Gouzenko indicated there was nothing to show they had given any information or that they went beyond the "development" stage.

Gouzenko said the Russian Ambassador Zaroubin—whose code name was "Master of Metro"—was not a member of the Russian network of military agents that worked under Col. Nicolai Zabolin, former military attaché at the embassy.

THE FORMER cipher clerk for Zabolin said Zaroubin had been an agent under another system of agents working for NKVD, the Russian secret police, with the embassy as headquarters.

He mentioned Pavlov, second secretary, as head of this second network.

Gouzenko said he had taken a

Studio Fire

I guess I was pretty lucky to get out," he said.

CAUSE OF THE blaze was not determined.

Pollard was alone in the dark room, developing film when there was a slight explosion and flames immediately ignited the films and inflammable film stocks he was working on.

His brother, Harold Pollard, foreman of the engraving plant, rushed from the adjoining room to assist and the two grabbed hand extinguishers and attempted to put out the fire but the blaze was too big.

THE EXTINGUISHERS were absolutely useless against that kind of fire, Harold Pollard told an Edmonton Bulletin reporter.

The fire ignited hearthwood on the wall above the workbench and swept up the wall, setting fire to studio storeroom above, spreading finally to the roof where firemen had to hack through the slates to fight the blaze.

THE ALARM was turned in by Harold Jackson and Eirlys Roberts at 12:15 p.m.

Fire fighting equipment from No. 1 and 2 halls under Deputy Chief James R. Ferguson arrived almost immediately and soon had the fire under control.

A cloud of black smoke pouring from the roof attracted a large crowd of lunch-hour citizens.

Bert Hollingshead, manager of McDermid's Studio Ltd., said it would be impossible to estimate the damage until a large amount of stock and equipment has been carefully examined.

A CONSIDERABLE amount of film negatives awaiting finishing may have been lost and this was viewed as the most serious aspect of the fire.

Work on newspaper pictures for Thursday's papers was held up through a power failure caused by the fire.

Mr. Hollingshead said that some of the machines may have been damaged although he believed all cameras in the main studio had escaped damage.

THERE WILL ALSO be some damage from water leaking through the roof into other parts of the studios untouched by the fire it self.

McDermid Studio Ltd. is a two-story commercial brick and wood structure.

with logging and sawmill operators.

V. Stuart, who handled negotiations for the operators, issued a statement today contending that the basis of the offer made by Mr. Pritchett only 12,700 persons of 37,000 out on strike voted 14 to one for the offer.

When the other 24,300? Mr. Stuart asked.

VICTORIA, Attorney-General Gordon Wimmer said no British Columbia government action will be taken to interfere with IWA picket lines, but for more than 900 federal requests it. Mr. Wimmer declined to comment on the status of pickets in his strike declared "illegal" yesterday by provincial labor minister George Pearson.

The only claim of any incidents at logging camps and sawmills came today from Kelowna. The main lines, near the Simpson Co. sawmill, whose employees remained on the job yesterday, said a veteran employee had been told his house would be burned down if he continues to work.

The Vancouver Daily Province reported that "flying squads" of IWA union men are today pushing down the Fraser Valley, closing down little plants that tried to keep open despite the strike that took up every big operation.

These little mills were not organized but union men claim the right to close them and they are doing it.

The Daily Province also said that "with all signs, apples and apples fruit crop in the Okanagan, tremendously losses would result if the workers' strike runs into two weeks."

W. WEST, public relations officer for the B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., said peaches, apricots and apples about 10,000,000 boxes would be required for the province, but more than 90 per cent. of the 1946 requirements have been delivered.

The strike is expected to affect longshoremen with those loading lumber likely to be idle while the B.C. forest is cut before the strike began, are exhausted. Building trades union officials are expected to be affected if the walkout continues more than two weeks.

OFFICIALS of the huge Powell River Company which supplies newspaper to newspapers through the United States and Canada, said the company whose employees are not affected by the strike will continue to operate as usual as raw materials are available.

This period of operations was not predicted at present time company officials said, but the Powell River Company will, in the most predictable case, in "good faith" before the royal commission and his testimony had been construed as a "confession of guilt."

Meanwhile the lumber industry which produces approximately 8,000,000 board feet of lumber was virtually paralysed.

BOTH THE OPERATORS and International Woodworkers of America join the army in a possible new move by the Dominion government to effect a settlement between the two groups and hours demands.

Pickets are maintaining 24-hour vigil at all logging camps and sawmills in the province, with the exception of a few which accepted union demands and those in the Prince George localities.

There the northern interior lumbermen's association will meet with representatives in a discussion of union demands. The strike had been postponed 24 hours to allow for the Prince George dispute.

AT TODAY'S meeting the employers will, they say, accept any reasonable proposal which they can meet while continuing to operate financially.

The Prince George area produces about six per cent of the total B.C. output.

Union officials have stated they are prepared to meet government or employer representatives at any time to bring about an amicable settlement in the future.

However, the IWA is opposed to proceeding under PC 1003. Harold Pritchett, IWA district president, said in a radio address last night that the union does not want PC 1003 imposed because the award of any conciliation board is not binding on either party.

THE WORKERS' demands, originally calling for 25 cents an hour wage increase and a 40-hour week, were cut to 15-cent an hour at a meeting with operators presided over by Chief Justice Gordon Sloan. The union agreed to abandon the strike on these terms but the operators rejected the demands and refused to negotiate while the strike threat was pending. That led to breakup of negotiations and the parties continue to hold the same stand.

The strike's effects are due to spread progressively to other industries. Construction will be among the first to feel the effects because of the shortage of lumber and the consequent increase in consumption and export dwindles.

IF THE STRIKE lasts three weeks an estimated third of the province's 250,000 workers will be idle with tieup even forecast in remote industries like fishing.

OPERATORS ASK FOR REFERENDUM
VANCOUVER, May 16.—(CP)—Operators in the forest industries of British Columbia have proposed that a referendum vote should be taken by the department of labor to let employees react on a recent proposal of a wage increase of 51.00 a day.

They said here last night that the present strike was called on the basis of the vote taken last February before any wage increase had been offered.

R. V. STUART, representative of the companies, said that "this offer has never been referred back to the rank and file of the union membership. Instead, about 32,000 employees, many of them highly skilled, have been called out on the basis of a vote taken 14 weeks ago. In this vote, it is understood, only a small minority of the union members cast ballots."

"Surely this province should not be paralyzed by an illegal strike called on the basis of a vote taken 14 weeks ago and no subsequent consultation of the employees to see how they feel about the operators' offer of $1.00 a day wage increase."

The Vancouver Daily Province reported that "flying squads" of IWA union men are today pushing down the Fraser Valley, closing down little plants that tried to keep open despite the strike that took up every big operation.

These little mills were not organized but union men claim the right to close them and they are doing it.

The Daily Province also said that "with all signs, apples and apples fruit crop in the Okanagan, tremendously losses would result if the workers' strike runs into two weeks."

W. WEST, public relations officer for the B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., said peaches, apricots and apples about 10,000,000 boxes would be required for the province, but more than 90 per cent. of the 1946 requirements have been delivered.

The strike is expected to affect longshoremen with those loading lumber likely to be idle while the B.C. forest is cut before the strike began, are exhausted. Building trades union officials are expected to be affected if the walkout continues more than two weeks.

OFFICIALS of the huge Powell River Company which supplies newspaper to newspapers through the United States and Canada, said the company whose employees are not affected by the strike will continue to operate as usual as raw materials are available.

This period of operations was not predicted at present time company officials said, but the Powell River Company will, in the most predictable case, in "good faith" before the royal commission and his testimony had been construed as a "confession of guilt."

Meanwhile the lumber industry which produces approximately 8,000,000 board feet of lumber was virtually paralysed.

BOTH THE OPERATORS and International Woodworkers of America join the army in a possible new move by the Dominion government to effect a settlement between the two groups and hours demands.

Pickets are maintaining 24-hour vigil at all logging camps and sawmills in the province, with the exception of a few which accepted union demands and those in the Prince George localities.

There the northern interior lumbermen's association will meet with representatives in a discussion of union demands. The strike had been postponed 24 hours to allow for the Prince George dispute.

AT TODAY'S meeting the employers will, they say, accept any reasonable proposal which they can meet while continuing to operate financially.

The Prince George area produces about six per cent of the total B.C. output.

Union officials have stated they are prepared to meet government or employer representatives at any time to bring about an amicable settlement in the future.

However, the IWA is opposed to proceeding under PC 1003. Harold Pritchett, IWA district president, said in a radio address last night that the union does not want PC 1003 imposed because the award of any conciliation board is not binding on either party.

THE WORKERS' demands, originally calling for 25 cents an hour wage increase and a 40-hour week, were cut to 15-cent an hour at a meeting with operators presided over by Chief Justice Gordon Sloan. The union agreed to abandon the strike on these terms but the operators rejected the demands and refused to negotiate while the strike threat was pending. That led to breakup of negotiations and the parties continue to hold the same stand.

The strike's effects are due to spread progressively to other industries. Construction will be among the first to feel the effects because of the shortage of lumber and the consequent increase in consumption and export dwindles.

IF THE STRIKE lasts three weeks an estimated third of the province's 250,000 workers will be idle with tieup even forecast in remote industries like fishing.

Hirohito Appoints Japanese Premier

By ERNEST HOBERCHER

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
TOKYO, May 16 (UPI)—Shigeru Yoshida, a steady, little 67-year-old man who has spent most of his lifetime in Japan's diplomatic service, was appointed premier of Japan by Emperor Hirohito today after rejecting the endorsement of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

HIROHITO's command to Yoshida to form a new Japanese government was given at 2:45 p.m. (Tokyo time) after an audience in the imperial palace. Yoshida immediately held conferences with nearly every cabinet member, and a spokesman for the new premier said he expects to complete formation of his new government by Friday.

The appointment of Yoshida—a moderate to succeed Baron Kijuro Shidehara climaxed a 25-day stalemate wherein major political parties held conferences and rain showers set day in an effort to find a man who could win enough support from various groups of organized a cabinet.

SHIDEHARA, who recommended Yoshida's appointment to the emperor, resigned April 22. Yoshida, who served as foreign minister in the Shidehara cabinet, was approved by MacArthur in a letter to the Japanese government.

In a brief statement after his appointment, Yoshida said: "Owing to the critical food situation, the emperor has ordered me to organize a cabinet as soon as possible. I want to organize a national cabinet quickly in order to meet the people's needs."

Shidehara might be included in the new cabinet. Informal sources believed Yoshida will continue to carry on the duties of foreign minister until he can find a suitable man for the post.

The new cabinet is expected to be a coalition of conservative parties. First to be summoned to the official residence of the premier in a series of interviews that lasted far into the night was Takao Saito, executive committee chairman of the Progressive party. Observers here believed Saito might be picked as home minister or minister without portfolio in Yoshida's cabinet.

YOSHIDA'S SPEAKERMAN said Sanjiko Yamamoto, chairman of the Co-operative party's executive committee and hitherto unknown in the national political picture, had the interview. Yamamoto told reporters he would not serve in a cabinet which did not include the Social Democrats.

Whoops! British Men Are Wearing Engagement Rings

LONDON, May 16.—(Reuters)—Sex equality has taken another step forward in Britain. Men now wear engagement rings. This custom has come from the continent where cupid has always exacted equal tolls. Soldiers returning from Germany have told their girls about and the girls have been quick to take the hint.

A London jeweler said today the pre-war fashion of exchanging wedding rings has nearly died out. But almost as many engagement rings are being sold for men as for women.

Men's engagement rings are signet rings and have an inscription "Forever Yours" is the favorite — on the inside.

British men, in search of brighter headgear, also are turning to berets.

Foundry Workers To Strike in B.C.

VANCOUVER, May 16.—(CP)—Conciliation efforts to avert a strike of 500 Vancouver foundry workers for next Friday have collapsed, and union officials announced last night the "hot war" is on. Terminating the conciliation meeting called by Chief Conciliation Officer James S. Excitement ran high in the hearts of more than 2,000 Brownies, Guides, Cubs and Scouts when they assembled in the parade grounds of the University of Alberta campus, Wednesday afternoon, to greet the World Chief Guide, Lady Baden-Powell, widow of Lord Baden-Powell, founder of the Scout organization, she is in Edmonton during the course of a Dominion-wide tour.

question before the legislature would have to have a majority of the whole legislature for passage and also a majority of each of the two major parties in the legislature, the predominantly Hindu Congress Party and the Muslim League.

3. ALL OTHER subjects of government—the residuary power—to be vested in the provinces.

4. The princely states also to retain all powers not ceded to the union.

5. Permission for the province to form regional groups which like-wise would have executive branches and legislatures. Each regional group would determine the subjects of its common administration.

6. INCLUSION in both the union and regional constitutions provisions under which any provincial legislature could, by majority vote, call for reconsideration of the constitution after the first 10 years and at intervals of 10 years afterward.

The cabinet mission—composed of Lord Pethick-Lawrence, secretary of state for India; Sir Stafford Cripps, president of the board of trade, and A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty—also recommended an interim government be set up in which all offices would be held by Indians. The government would rule while the proposed new constitution was being put into effect.

THE MISSION proposed that a constitutional convention meet in New Delhi as soon as possible, with the delegates to be chosen by the recently elected provincial legislatures. Under the proposal one delegate would be chosen for each 500,000 people, each province rationing the delegates among Moslems, Sikhs and general population in proportion to the number of people of those classifications.

dark, tall and handsome. Maybe he'll quit writing letters," he said in an interview.

"The prospector, who is handsome and looks much younger than his 47 years, said, 'I think I'll not be getting married. I'm too much of a hush man. Now if I was in my twenties again...'

"I JUST WANT to get back to the bush and stake some more claims," he said. "If I stay around here somebody might want to marry me for my money."

Arsenault arrived in New York yesterday afternoon, and since then life has not been much like in the far north. There was first a radio show, then a fancy dinner, then drinks, then night clubs, then more drinks, then posing for pictures with scantily clad chorus girls.

"Gosh, I never thought I'd get to bed. Those fellows thought I ought to like this night life stuff. It's enough to wear a man from the bush down."

ARSENault COULDN'T for the life of him remember who took him out last night—"on their money."

"Some fellows that said they were from Brooklyn or the Bronx or someplace. But they sure spent the money. And it was all theirs," he said.

The chorus girls were lovely kids. But I don't think any of them would like to live in an igloo or a sleeping bag up around Yellowknife."

Arsenault was surprised at his New York reception. "Spud's pretty well known in the Yukon," he said. "But I didn't think anybody down here would care much about a man from the bush."

HE MADE THE TRIP from Canada primarily to visit his sister, Mrs. H. Palace, of Jersey City, N.J. He plans to go there late today for a steak dinner—her husband is a butcher.

"After that I'll head back to Canada. I figure I'll get to Toronto Monday, from there to Edmonton and back to Yellowknife," he said. "I'm going back and stake a few more claims, then maybe I'll come blowout."

Slapping Bee in Hollywood

Their Faces Are Red

HOLLYWOOD, May 16.—(AP)—A brief slapping bee at a Trocadero restaurant party for Diana Barrymore rarely yesterday ready itself a few hours later into a couple of red faces not entirely caused by cuffs on the profile.

PARTICIPANTS WERE actress Anne Sterling and tennis professional John Howard (not the same name). Both admitted the incident, although differing on who swung first, and in the sober light of day agreed the whole thing was "ridiculous."

It all started when Howard, Miss Barrymore's escort, said he wanted to go home.

"Diana didn't want to go," said Miss Sterling, "and when I tried to talk him out of it he got mad and slapped my face. I guess I slapped him back."

HOWARD SAID she slapped him first, but Miss Sterling rejoined that wasn't the way she remembered it, adding "I'd be awful silly to hit a big man like John."

Howard said he and Miss Sterling were old friends, "and I hope we still are."

"We are if John says so," Anne agreed.

THE PARTY WAS HELD to speed Miss Barrymore on her way to Nevada where she will divorce Bramwell Fletcher. She's the daughter of the late John Barrymore.

Home Full of Pets

Three-Foot Alligator Pet of 'Peg Children

WINNIPEG, May 16.—(CP)—All in all, it's no wonder that Mrs. N. J. Vadboncoeur of Winnipeg says she has learned to accept anything with resignation.

MRS. VADBONCOEUR has two children, George and Cora Rose, and five dogs call the Vadboncoeur residence their home.

Actually this represents a sharp drop in population since George, a bird, an owl, a foot-long goldfish, and five dogs call the Vadboncoeur residence their home.

"MAKE THE MOST of your time learn all you can and do not be content to stay at the bottom of the ladder, but climb slowly up, earning your badges and merit as you go," she concluded.

Presentation of the Boy Scout Medal of Merit was made to Scout James Riddoch, Calmar, by Lady Baden-Powell. Fourteen years old today, Scout Riddoch received the medal for a life-saving part he played in a disastrous fire that occurred in Calmar, May 3, 1945.

The fire threatened the safety of the whole community and resulted in the destruction of the central business area. In view of the inadequate fire-fighting facilities, controlling the fire depended on human effort alone.

THE CITATION in part reads as follows: "Scout Riddoch was at the scene of the fire at the outbreak and for several hours worked hard with other members of the troop, saving property and carrying water. He took charge of a truck which was being used to haul water all during the night, and was largely responsible for the continuous supply of water necessary for the fire engine. Not until the fire was under control at 7:30 a.m., did he cease his work. After a few hours sleep, he was again ready for duty and volunteered to carry on during the night, if necessary."

Accompanying Scout Riddoch, was Scoutmaster John Ferguson and members of the Calmar group.

A HEAVY SHOWER, which occurred shortly after the ceremonies began, did not dampen the spirits of the assembled Scouts and Guides, who flocked into the drill hall, for the remainder of the afternoon.

Senate Continues Canada Day Debate

OTTAWA, May 16.—(CP)—The bill to change "Dominion Day" to "Canada Day" was before the Senate again yesterday and the debate was further adjourned after three Senators opposed a change and one wanted it.

SENATOR T. D. Bouchard (L.-Quebec) objected to the name Dominion Day on the ground that Canada was no longer a dominion, but a nation. Senator William Duff (L.-Nova Scotia) said to change the name was the thin edge of the wedge that might lead to "communism in this country." Senator John T. Halg, Progressive Conservative leader, said Dominion Day was dear to the hearts of Canadians.

Senator James Murdoch (P.C.—Ontario) described the bill as a "silly bill" and was called to order when he imputed motives to the Commons' member who had introduced the bill.

The bill was introduced in the Commons by Phileas Cote, Liberal member for Matane.

Senator Haig said there was nothing derogatory about the name Dominion. In the Statute of Westminster all self-governing parts of the Empire, except the United Kingdom, were referred to as Dominions and that honored Canada.

The bill to change the name to Canada Day had been passed in haste by the commons and he would like to see the senate deliberate the bill.

SENATOR MURDOCK read an editorial describing the bill as a "silly bill" and launched an attack on the run of the house. This restriction dates back to a time when Nero arrived downstairs while Mrs. Vadboncoeur was entertaining. She says it was almost time for the guests to leave anyway.

Nero can walk up and down stairs but only if he zigzags. He has learned this through bitter experience.

Horses, Hunting, Diplomats Hitler's Secret Hates Bared by SS Diplomat

By GODFREY ANDERSON

ASPERG, Germany, May 16.—(AP)—Hitler hated three things—horses, hunting and professional diplomats.

THESE less publicized hatreds of the Fuehrer, who also disliked both Jews and Communists, were revealed by the SS Standarten-Fuehrer and Nazi diplomat, Gustav Adolf von Halem, who was once vice-marshal of the Berlin diplomatic corps and now is an internecine with a number of other former diplomats in Hohen-Asperg castle.

"Hitler did not like horses because they were not disciplined enough for him," Von Halem explained. "They always disturbed the best military parades, especially when there was music. So far as I am aware the Fuehrer never rode a horse himself. He hated them."

Hunting was disliked by Hitler from purely humanitarian, or maybe vegetarian, motives.

"HE WOULD ASK sportmen, such as Goering: 'If the same had guns as you have, would you be shooting or not?' And then he would add that to kill animals was plain murder unless you gave them an equal chance with you."

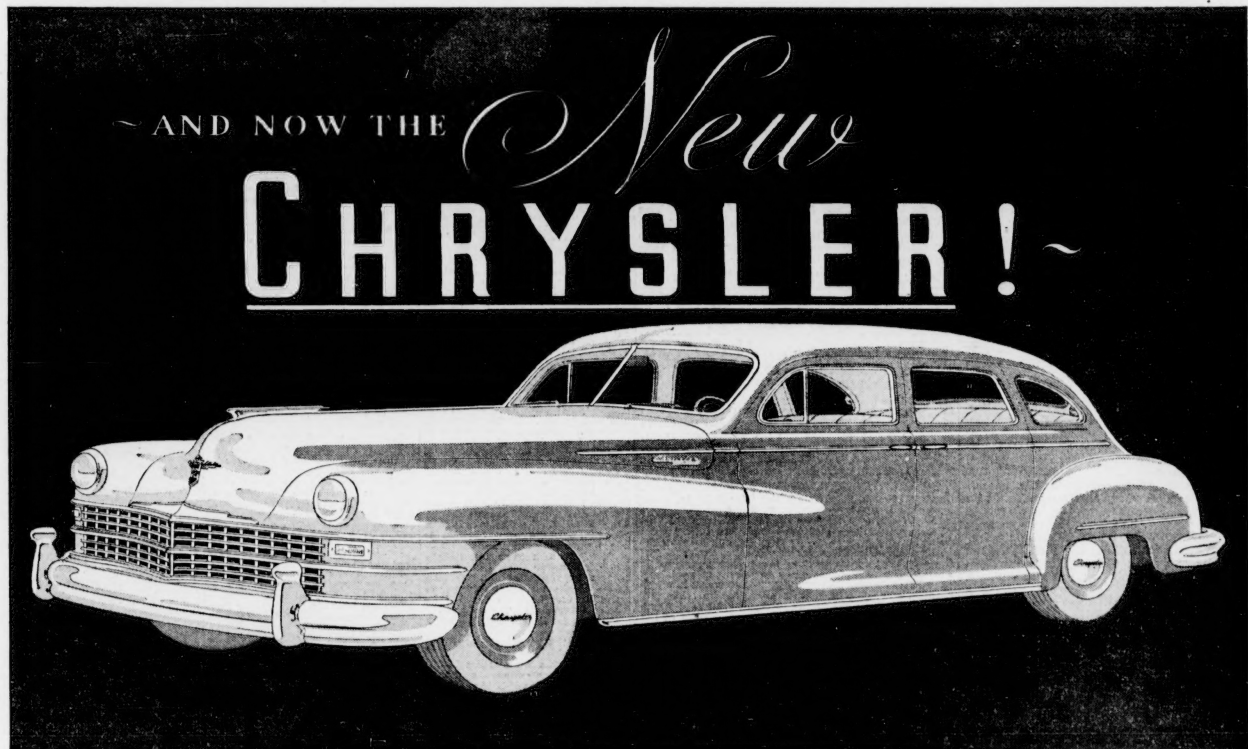

His dislike of professional diplomats on the people behind the bill. He said they represented people "who in the First and the Second Great Wars had repaired to the confines of the woods instead of fighting for their country." Parliament soon would be requested to deal leniently with these people.

Senator Dupuis protested against Senator Murdoch being permitted to impute motives to the commons member who had introduced the bill and Speaker J. H. King ruled Senator Murdoch must keep his observations to the bill.

"Then all I will say," Senator Murdoch concluded, "is that, like the editorial, I think it is a silly bill."

Wants Union Jack Left Out of Flag

By JACK BRAYLEY

OTTAWA, May 16.—(CP)—The parliamentary flag committee whittled its choice to five designs yesterday with Senator Leon Mercier Gouin (L, Quebec) making an impassioned plea for a happy compromise.

SON of Sir Lomer Gouin and grandson of Hon. Honore Mercier—both premiers of Quebec—Senator Gouin suggested a flag design that did not carry the Union Jack but which carried the crown—symbol of Canadian loyalty to the King. His suggestion was one of the designs still before the committee when they adjourned to leave a sub-committee of seven to work out the next steps in procedure. He thought the flag he suggested was the "happy compromise" for the committee because it retained the ties with the crown and still did not include the Union Jack and was therefore distinctive and above controversy.

The designs remaining before the committee, the name of the authors and the votes they received follow:

1. A red ensign with a golden maple leaf in the fly in place of the traditional coat of arms; designed by Donald Baird of Toronto, N.S., 17 votes.
2. A flag with a silver crown and red crown on a blue square in the masthead corner and three red maple leaves on a white field in the fly; designed by Col. A. F. Du Guad, army heraldry expert; four votes.
3. A white ensign with a red maple leaf in a red circle in the fly bearing four diagonal blue stripes; designed by J. W. Leroy Holman of Summerside, P.E.I.; four votes.

4. A flag composed of red and white triangles bearing a green maple leaf in the centre of the diagonal line separating the two colors; designed by La Ligue du Drapeau National of Quebec; three votes.

5. A white ensign with a green maple leaf in the fly, submitted to a Montreal Lapresse competition and adjudged the best entry; by Hugh Savage of Duncan, B.C.; three votes.

Rev. Dan Melvor (L-Fort William) and a native son of Ulster said his objection to the Duguid design was that the maple leaves were not distinctive enough. He thought from a distance they could be taken for shamrocks.

Boosts Said Unjustifiable

CCF Party Launches Attack On Farm Machine Cost Jump

By GEORGE KITCHEN

OTTAWA, May 16.—(CP)—The CCF party yesterday called on the Commons to express the opinion that recent "unjustifiable" increases in the prices of steel and farm machinery have placed upon Canadian farmers and workers an unfair share of the burden of maintaining the government's price stabilization policy.

THE REQUEST was in the form of an amendment to a Progressive Conservative motion of non-confidence in the government, moved May 6 by John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, who charged the price ceiling policy was hampering food production and placing the weight of maintaining the policy upon the farmers alone.

The CCF amendment was moved by Mrs. Gladys Strum (CCF, Qu'Appelle) as the house resumed action on Mr. Bracken's motion. Speakers included Robert Mayhew (L-Victoria, B.C.), Clarence Gillis (L-Victoria, B.C.), Hugh Cleaver (L-Halton) and Douglas Harkness (PC-Calgary East), who adjourned the debate.

In moving the CCF amendment, Mrs. Strum criticized the government's action in allowing price increases in farm machinery and steel and termed them a breach in the wall of price ceilings which should not go unquestioned.

MR. MAYHEW, parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Isley, said he approved of higher prices for farm and other products as long as they could be controlled. Occasional adjustments should be made but they should be "time" controlled.

Mr. Harkness said hog-producers in Alberta were on a semi-strike because of the price they could get for hogs and the price they could get for barley.

It was time the government re-evaluated the controls it forced on the people in wartime.

Farmers were being asked to bear too heavy a burden of the cost of maintaining the price stabilization policy.

Wheat on the Chicago market was selling $2.14 a bushel in Canadian funds. At Fort William wheat for export sold at $1.55.

The burden of this loss was borne entirely by wheat growers. The situation was similar in the case of oats and barley.

THE WESTERN FARMER felt the people of the Dominion should share the loss possibly through a subsidy. The western farmers were as taxpayers, bearing their share of the cost of the subsidies of wheat to Canadian millers. They also paid their share of the cost on shipments of grain from western to eastern Canada.

Mr. Harkness said retail meat prices had increased 50 to 100 per cent. The price of cattle had gone up only 35 per cent.

The beef producer was called on to subsidize the consumer and the overseas markets.

Government policies would have no other effect than to decrease production. The government should raise price ceilings if they did not wish to abolish them.

THE SECOND TUNNEL at the site, to be used for carrying water into an irrigation canal from the reservoir, is scheduled for construction at the same time as the earth fill.

The federal government has already provided $750,000 in its estimates for part of the dam construction and tenders have been called for the two tunnels. Tenders open in Regina next Monday and the contract is expected to be awarded by the end of next week.

Capers of 1946

Scores Success

"Canadian Capers of 1946," a varied and colorful dance revue, was presented at the Empire theatre on Wednesday night under the direction of Juneau Moore, and the dance department of Edmonton College, Inc. A capacity audience was on hand.

JUNEAU MOORE'S talents in the art of terpsichorean, both interpretive and directional, long have been known and recognized. She has directed numerous annual editions of "capers" and has devised and produced the ballets for several Edmonton Civic Opera Society productions. Her contribution on this occasion was artistic, and up to the standard theatre patrons have come to expect of her.

She received admirable assistance in the dances from Joan Soloway and Mildred Gust, from Mrs. T. Malone, pianist; Mrs. E. T. Evans, Mrs. E. Biondeaux and parents of pupils in the matter of costumes and from Inez MacDonald and assistants in make-up.

A HIGHLIGHT of the evening, outstanding among the 51 numbers on the program was the director's exhibition, entitled "Entr'acte," which she performed by request.

There was much excellent work exhibited by the students who, proved responsive to teaching and who displayed talents of a high order. They were dainty pirates, dainty jewels, brave Indians, dreamy Hawaiians, gay gypsies and many others portrayed in the dance, all adding up to a most enjoyable, entertaining and enlightening evening.

Wetaskiwin Board of Trade Established by Businessmen

WETASKIWIN.—Wetaskiwin's Businessmen's Association bowed graciously out of the picture yesterday when the Board of Trade was established. The monthly meeting in the civic block Monday night was to be replaced by the new Wetaskiwin Board of Trade. The step was taken as a direct result of the visit to Wetaskiwin and attendance at the meeting of J. Christenson, R. H. Settle, Reg. Rose and D. McKay, officials of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce.

Originally started about a year ago to deal with pressing civic problems, the businessmen's association met with immediate success with an ever-increasing scope of activities as it progressed. From local civic problems it progressed to successful negotiations for a gravelled highway to Windfall in aid of the Board of Trade in that town and other tasks which embraced the interests of the district at large.

The change-over to a Board of Trade had been under consideration for some time as it was felt that farmer members should be included in the organization to promote rural activities and assist in making the operation of the group more effective. The Edmontonians attended the meeting by special invitation to explain the organization necessary for the change.

After a lengthy discussion of the proposed change the meeting unanimously voted to establish the Wetaskiwin Board of Trade with a board of directors consisting of representatives of the businessmen's association.

Bad Weather Mars U.S. Wheat Hopes

WASHINGTON, May 16.—(AP)—The United States winter wheat crop is still plagued by bad weather conditions, insects and plant diseases, the weather bureau reported yesterday.

Drought conditions in the western plains which cut 88,000,000 bushels off estimated production during April persisted during the last week in northwest Texas, southwestern Kansas and parts of Nebraska.

THE BUREAU SAID it is possible that extreme cold weather which covered much of the country last week caused some freeze damage to the wheat crop in the central plains region, particularly Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, and Illinois, some wheat fields were said to be scorched by hessian flies and rust.

Elsewhere, wheat was reported to be in more or less good condition.

The Bulletin's SPORTS SHOW by Hal Dean

ROLL call at Renfrew Park on Wednesday showed that three of the ball players from the Pacific coast had reported. A fourth, Gino Valenti, arrived from San Francisco last night and Jack McCulloch of Winnipeg is due in Edmonton today.

Arnold Martin, shortstop from Twin Falls, Idaho, and whose home is San Jose, Cal., impressed, being active and having an accurate eye to first. He worked at third base during the practice.

HOWARD PEERS, who made the journey from California to Edmonton via car, is a catcher from the Stockton club, but Missoula, Montana, is his home address.

Art Flores is a shortstop from San Francisco. He arrived during the afternoon and his infield work last night also drew an approving word from bleacher birds viewing the practice. Art was born in Tampico, Mexico.

GARNEAU CLUB'S lawn bowlers were out Wednesday night untravelling some of the kinks accumulated during the winter months by tossing a few while giving the green an informal test.

Club officials say the green is in excellent shape having some through the winter with very little damage.

The almost complete absence of killing through snow made it impossible to have the winter months given the grass late last fall. Sterling Shields is last green-keeper. Garneau membership will reach a new high this season, according to Harry Robertson, the indicated increase in new members alone being at least 15. It is anticipated regular play for the year will commence on Friday.

Boast "Sky the Limit" Braves Are Still Hoping Obtain Kurowski From Cards

By BILL KING
BOSTON, May 16.—(AP)—With a hustling ball club that promises to fulfill their fondest hopes—a first division berth—already on their hands, the wealthy owners of Boston Braves, affectionately known as the "Little Three Steamshovelers," yesterday were unlimbering their bank-rolls for another attack on St. Louis Cardinals' star talent.

Lou Perini, Guido Rugio and Joe Mamey, who boast that the "sky is the limit" when it comes to providing manager Billy Southworth with the players he desires, have high hopes they will be able to give him Whitley Kurowski to plug the tribesmen's third-base hole.

THE DICKERING for Kurowski has been going on since last fall.

The Braves' owners have boasted their Kurowski offer almost into six figures and, they intimate, they will continue raising until Sam Breadon weakens, he did in the cases of Johnny Hopp and Ray Sanders, who have done much to pitch the Braves into the thick of the National League pennant scramble.

The "steamshovelers," despite Tom Yawkey's pre-war failures with the Red Sox, refused to be convinced their wealth cannot buy a pennant.

"ALL WE NEED is a bit more strength here and there and a couple of top-notch pitchers and we'll be as strong as anybody," they claim.

They also have sharp eyes on the club's income, which promises to more than clear expenses this season. Only one of their many novel ways to lure in cash customers is an arrangement with all Boston direct bus lines. Drivers are supposed to go on since last fall.

Stage Six-Run Rally to Turn Back Mortons 6-1 in Girl's Fastball

Unbeaten Walk-Rites Win Third Straight

2nd Victory For Carveth Two Starts

Trailing 1-0 at the beginning of the sixth inning, Walk-Rites staged a six-run rally that swept them to a 7-1 victory over Mortons in a City Senior Girls' Fastball League game at the Kingsway diamond Wednesday evening.

It was the third win in as many starts for the victors since the opening of the season. It was the second triumph in the same number of starts for Betty Carveth who held the Mortons to three safe hits.

WITH ONE DOWN in the sixth and Betty Carveth on first, Thora Stewart came up to the plate and started the big sixth inning outburst by clouting a long one to right field and making second base a cinch.

Carveth went out while trying to make home when shortstop Lois Nicol stopped Mickey McConnell's grounder and pegged it to catch Theresa Lafleur, Stewart going to second on the play.

Mickey McConnell stole second base, then advanced to third when Francis Zavitz' left field grounder was scored for a single, Stewart scoring.

McConnell scored on a single, Stewart scoring. Mickey came home and Francis moved to third on a left field drive by Minnie Wilson.

Wilson's drive to second and the score went to 4-1 for Walk-Rites when Ruth Braut sent an error to first.

Left fielder to drive in both Willson and Zavitz.

SABEL WHITLEY then sent the ball out past short stop and drove Ruth Braut to third. Mortons shortstoper Kay Lyons muffed the play enabling Braut to slide in the fifth Walk-Rite run and allow Whitley to get to third.

Insard battled in Isabel Whitley's case to short field.

Walk-Rites' other run came in the ninth when Kay Ward's single out to centre field and then cashed in on a wild throw to first base by Theresa Lafleur, to go the rest of the way around.

Millie McAuley scored the only Mortons run, stemming out single to centre field in the fourth inning that put her on first. She stole second on a throw and was then driven in by Lois Nicol.

Score by innings:

Conn Goes Through Strenuous Workout

GREENWOOD LAKE, N.J., May 16.—(AP)—Pittsburgh's Billy Conn went through a strenuous session of boxing Wednesday in preparation for his June 10 bout with the title bout with Joe Louis and observers decided the accuracy of his punning still left something to be desired.

At nearby Pompton Lakes, Louis had a day off from boxing and as a substitute for his usual gymnasium work he climbed into a rowboat and pulled four miles around the lake.

Babe Ruth Denies Received Offer

WASHINGTON, May 16.—(AP)—Babe Ruth said yesterday he had received "no offer whatsoever" to head the Mexico baseball league—and insist on his statement to add that he might have something further to say on the subject when he returned from Mexico City in about two weeks.

Ruth paused here en route to Mexico City for what he described as a "two week pleasure trip" at the invitation of Jorge Pasquel, president of the Mexican league.

Has Derby Hopeful Nels Ings To Mark 23rd Year As Trainer on West Coast

By LOU DAVIES
CALGARY, May 16.—When western Canada's 1946 racing season opens at Victoria Park on May 24 it will mark the beginning of Nels Ings' 23rd consecutive season as an owner and trainer of thoroughbreds on the prairies.

Ings arrived in Calgary Monday bringing with him the Alberta Derby hopeful Elm Bank, the speedy Fly Divulge, and Hasty Kaid, Vi-Haler, Moore's Lass and Round.

One day in 1924 Nels Ings walked out to Whittier Park in Winnipeg and met the now famous Alf Tarn who instantly said "You're engaged as a trainer and how about going to Calgary?"

The first horse Nels trained was Lucky Hayes which, incidentally, was the horse which was to project Alf Tarn into international racing fame. During the course of being trainer for the effective Tarn, Nels Ings journeyed to Cuba and Australia.

WHILE INGS admits that the best horse he ever trained was Lucky Hayes, which was considered by racing pundits as one of the greatest of the good mare Ebony Moon to many a victory.

At nine years of age the good Canadian bred was claimed at Toronto last year, then went to a big fine field at Gulfstream Park at Miami, Florida.

Nels at one time saddled Alf Tarn's San Carlos in the final race of the Tijuana meeting and shipped 3,000 miles to Havana, Cuba, and won the first race at that track.

Nels will probably be more famed for the training of the sprinter, Eperny, a son of the famous French horse Epineux. Eperny through the years won many races in western and eastern Canada and was long regarded as one of the top flight sprinters on the prairies.

ING'S in past years has trained the winners of western Canada's four major handicaps but he has never had the honor of winning any one of the three prairie stakes. He won the Western Canada handicap in 1942 with Ebony Moon and the Whittier Park Handicap in 1941 and 1942 with the same good mare.

He also has been honored in the Polo Park Handicap with Faust in 1938 and won the Speed Handicap with Blue Day in 1932 and again with Recoatna in 1940.

When Alberta Derby Day rolls around at Victoria Park on June 3 Nels will be trying for his first stakes victory when he sends Elm Bank postwards in the seven furlong run for the $1,000 added purse.

Elm Bank is his stakes contender but Nels Ings has a formidable stable and his colors should flash to victory on more than one occasion during the day of the Sport of Kings at the Calgary course.

White Sox Overcome Boston On Jones' Two-Run Homer

NEW YORK, May 16.—(AP)—Boston's amazing Red Sox, away in front in the American Baseball League race, had the tide turned against them at Chicago yesterday when Chicago White Sox beat them 3-2 on a home run with one on by Murrell Jones and a three-hit performance by pitcher Johnny Rigney.

It was Rigney's first American League game of the year and the second defeat in 19 games for the surging Boston crew, who previously won 15 straight before losing to the Yankees recently in New York.

Chicago had to come from behind to win. Ted Williams' sixth inning home run, which walked into the upper deck in right field in the first inning, had put the Red Sox ahead 2-0.

Meanwhile, the up-and-coming Cleveland Indians, sixth in the standings, cruised to a 5-1 win by belting Philadelphia Athletics for two straight shutouts in a doubleheader.

Another HOME RUN, this time a grand-slam, featured St. Louis Browns' victory over second-place New York Yankees. The Browns were leading 2-0 in the seventh inning at St. Louis when Johnny Berardino blasted out his round-tripper. It gave the Browns the game and knocked Allen Getter out of the box. Charley Keller whammed out a homer for the Yankees in the eighth.

Meanwhile, the up-and-coming Cleveland Indians, sixth in the standings, cruised to a 5-1 win by belting Philadelphia Athletics for two straight shutouts in a doubleheader.

Another resurgent club, Washington Senators, staged a victory over the Tigers 6-3.

The capital players' debut rook left-hander Ted Gray off in the second inning and when they were leading 4-0 and put at least one runner on the bases in every frame but the ninth.

IN THE NATIONAL LEAGUE Lefty Hogue Pollet and young Dick Cavanah combined to give St. Louis Cardinals a 1-0 victory over Brooklyn and a sweep of their two-game series.

Birds again took over the league lead by 11 percentage points. Up to the time the Cardinals won, the Brooklyn had won all eight of their previous Ebbets Field encounters.

Before a crowd of 26,225, Pollet limited the Gowanus boys to five well-scattered hits in handing them their first shutout of the year. Slammered across the only run of the game with a 400-foot triple off the center field wall after Whitley Kurowski had doubled in the second inning.

HOME RUNS by a pair of rookies, Johnny Wyrostek and Del Ellis, carried Philadelphia Phillies into extra innings at the Quaker City but Clyde McPherson's circuit swing took two aboard in the 13th game Chicago Cubs a 6-4 victory. The Phillies knocked the game 3-3 in the ninth on a homer by Wyrostek after Ellis slapped a circuit clout into the seventh.

In a night game at New York, Cincinnati pitcher Steve Gashner, when Jack Graham muffed Mike McCormick's fly ball in the 10th inning and lost a runner West to score with the decisive run before 23,975 National League fans.

The Pittsburgh at Boston game was rained out.

THE REVOLVER marksmen used their regulation pistol target about 12 inches in diameter and the archers their regular target (diameter 24 inches). The shooting was from 20 yards.

The Archery Club's team was made up of Stan Brooke, Hannah Brooks, Bob Copeman, Bess Copeman, Homer Getty, Herb Albert and Alf Bunkell, while the revolver team was made up of Messrs. Tupper, Lester, Thurgood, Holgate, Gruber, Wright and Vangois.

Plate Eligibles

All at Toronto

TORONTO, May 16.—(CP)—With all 24 eligibles for racing's historic King's Plate now stabled here, railbirds were rewarded yesterday with a fast track that brought out several of the Canadian-bred three-year-olds nominated to chase the $100,000-added purse May 25.

The appearance of Kingvarie, Parkwood Stable's chestnut colt, caused the biggest stir among railbirds.

Working with stable-mate Zapolya, also eligible for the 87th running of Canada's richest stake race, Kingvarie heaved through four furlongs in 48.3 seconds from the barrier. It told little about how he would shape up over the 1 1/4-mile winner of the King's 50 guineas must travel.

David Turner's David T. whose arrival Tuesday from Maryland completed the list of eligibles, also was called on for a half-mile trial. The brown gelding breezed the distance in 49.3-5.

German Memorials

Ordered Destroyed

LONDON, May 16.—(CP)—Lord Nathan, undersecretary of war announced in the House of Lords last night that German war memorials including those of the First Great War, are to be destroyed to conform with the Allies' pledge to eliminate all Nazi and militarist influences and doctrines in Germany. Military museums are included. The only exceptions are mementos of artistic merit and village or similar memorials, he said. Lord Nathan's statement follows the announcement Monday in Berlin by the Allied Control Commission to similar effect.

Montreal Blanks Syracuse To Increase League Lead

MONTREAL, May 16.—(AP)—From running Montreal Royals increased their lead over second-place Syracuse Chiefs by whitewashing them 2-0 at Montreal Wednesday night. With Steve Nagy, hefty little Royal southpaw, yielding only two hits and two walks in fashioning his shutout. The victory gave Royals a clean sweep of the two-game series.

Montreal's first run in the fourth was the result of Tom Taum's single, a stolen base and Alex Campana's line double. They got the other tally in the sixth after Taum doubled and Red Durett walked.

ANOTHER 2-0 score came in the first game of a twilight-night doubleheader when Toronto defeated Baltimore. Harry Jordan held the Birds to two hits while the Leafs garnered seven off Post.

However, Baltimore turned the tables in the nightcap, trouncing Toronto 4-0 behind the four-hit pitching of Bill Miller. Baltimore collected 11 hits off two Toronto pitchers.

IN A NIGHT game at Rochester New York played off a ninth inning Rochester rally to defeat the Red Sox.

Today's Sport Parade

NEW YORK, May 16.—(AP)—Tommy O'Loughlin, the dapper fight manager from Minneapolis, pitched camp on Promoter Mike Jacobs' doorstep in an attempt to prove that his Elmo (Violent) Ray was no more of a "bum" than the five alleged heavyweights in the Louis-Conn anteroom.

With all the publicity David glancing up at Goliath, Tommy insisted that as long as the violent one had battered 47 consecutive opponents—37 of them by knock-out—it was time the favored few either knocked him off or admitted him to the select circle.

Willing to take on any or all of them, O'Loughlin took dead aim on Joe Basile, Lee Oms, Sam Maurilio, Jimmy Bivins and Jersey Joe Walcott, the venerable Johnny-come-lately to the sport's mystic club.

"THEY ARE AFRAID OF RAY because they know he'd knock them stiff," said Tommy. "So they say to go out and build up a reputation. Well, we've taken anybody we could get and they just won't let us in. And who did any of those five ever beat—except in their round robin—to get their alleged reputations?"

The blue-eyed Irishman is willing to concede that Ray never has beaten anybody of note.

"I admit that," he said. "So he's a bum, OK. Then if that's the way it is why don't they knock us off and get us out of the picture. The answer is that they are afraid of my boy."

WITHOUT ATTEMPTING to shift for Tommy, it may be drawn pretty conclusively that the fellow has a good point. For Ray had a shot at St. Nick's arena, where he stopped Johnny White in one round, then he moved into the garden and kid Shaan O'Brien in four.

They said Ray didn't look good in the O'Brien fight, but Tommy's acceptable version is that O'Brien was trying to tie up Ray and thus spoiled the brawl. However, the fact remains that Ray won—and never was brought back to meet any of the shy crown princes.

The fact that so many underdogs win in the Garden has nothing to do with all this. But, going back to Ray, Tommy insists that nobody ever will get his man to take a dive.

THE DIVE swan has been admitted by at least one favorite of Monopoli Mike.

BOTH BIVINS and Walcott have refused to make over motions inside the ropes with the husky negro from Hastings, Fla. Louis, too, ducked out on a planned round exhibition with Ray, announcing without guilt that Ray "hit too hard" to make it joyous or keep it in the form of an exhibition.

Ray, a one-time alligator wrestler, knocked out Colin Chaney at Baltimore in his last fight—using but three punches to end the abbreviated bout. Chaney is simply the guy who beat Al Hosmer, who in turn beat Lee Savold. And Savold, it may be recalled, has had his share of the garden too.

So it is fairly obvious why

VANCOUVER, May 16.—(CP)—It's too early to say definitely, but present indications suggest the possibility of Vancouver being the weak sister in western Canada's new football family next fall.

Soldiers of feverish activity spring from every front in the revived and revamped Western Interprovincial Rugby Union while all is more or less quiet on the far western front.

AS FAR AS organization is concerned, the Vancouver body is somewhat in rounding up the end of the Dominion's longest extension play. The 1,200-mile combination that starts in Winnipeg and includes Regina, Calgary and Edmonton on the way to the coast.

The cause is not beyond hope, however. A few things might happen which would save the situation and plunge Vancouver into competing spot in the western setup.

First, some party or parties with an interest in football for the sake of the game could throw a bit of money around, say to the tune of $50,000, which would set the team up nicely from a financial standpoint.

NOT THAT THE CLUB doesn't expect to pull through on its receipts, but with all the competition from other sports in Vancouver, it will probably be something of a squeeze.

Some lend-lease in talent from the United States would help considerably, and teaming up three or four good American footballers with a few of the home-bred veterans and a number of worthwhile prospects among the youngsters would pave the way for a respectable showing.

J. J. King, Vancouver businessman and vice-president of the football union, is working in attempts to overcome the obstacles and with some luck the coach squad should be right in there pitching four months hence.

ANOTHER BANTAM contender—Jackie Turner, Vancouver boxer, intends to challenge the winner of the forthcoming bout between champion Manuel Ortiz and Kenny Lindsay, another Vancouverite.

Like all good managers, Joe Martin says Jackie should be about ready for something big. Holder of the Pacific northwest bantam title, he has won a dozen or so straight victories.

BIRTHDAY PARTY—Vancouver will observe its diamond jubilee with a round of sports that should suit every taste. Starting June 30, the folks will have a chance to see a yachting regatta, the Jubilee handicap at Lansdowne race track.

The ROAD AHEAD

By HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

FOR our concern for our younger veterans and their rehabilitation problems there is a tendency for us to forget that many of our veterans are no longer young. Today one of our major problems is to provide opportunities for the older men—many of whom have served their country, and the cause of freedom, twice—and some three times. As they return to the labour market to look for work they find that they are the unwanted survivors—casualties, not of the battlefield, but of the labor market.

Tom Madden showing off the finer features of his recently purchased automobile; Mary Fyculk bestowing her customary smile on her morning coffee; customers; Dr. W. A. McIvor making arrangements for the city dentists' annual day on the golf links; Ann Fleming looking over the stock of nurses' uniforms in a women's store; Eley Paulson alighting onto a stool at his favorite refreshment counter; Wallie Beaumont studying the men's bathing suit situation through a colorful shop window; Dave Ramsey holding the interest of a group of citizens townbound on a Highlands trolley-bus.

Junior Chamber Plans Air Show

To demonstrate to the public that model airplanes have progressed to the point that they can give Edmontonians an opportunity to inspect an airplane assembly plant, the Junior Chamber of Commerce is holding an open house at North West Industries between the hours of one and five p.m. Wednesday.

Such light planes as the Ronka, Swift, Tailor Craft, Piper Cub, and the only Canadian-made personal airplane, the Canuck, will be on display.

Model aircraft that will fit in the palm of one hand and yet travel at a speed of more than 100 miles an hour will be demonstrated. These miniature planes range in horsepower from a 1/4 to 1/2 horse and in weight from two oz. to 20 oz. Thirty gas engine models will be flown on a control line to demonstrate their speed, maneuverability and appearance in comparison to large type air-craft. This display will be conducted by the Edmonton Model Aero Club.

In co-operation with the Junior Chamber of Commerce open house the Army and Navy Department Store is sponsoring two free plane lessons at 2:30 p.m., May 24.

The school of the Junior Chamber of Commerce is also holding an open house at North West Industries (formerly Aircraft Repair) Wednesday between 1 and 5 p.m.

Finishing Lumber Shortage Is Seen

Shortage of finishing lumber, required in manufacturing doors, windows and moldings in Edmonton, was seen as an immediate result of the strike in British Columbia yesterday of 37,000 logging and sawmill workers.

The strike was called last week following collapse of negotiations in a dispute between International Woodworkers of America (CIO) and B.C. lumber operators.

LUMBER DEALERS said Thursday there was no shortage of ordinary lumber anticipated because of the walkout, but that better class finishing materials, which are not kept on stock in the city, would have a serious effect on the building trade.

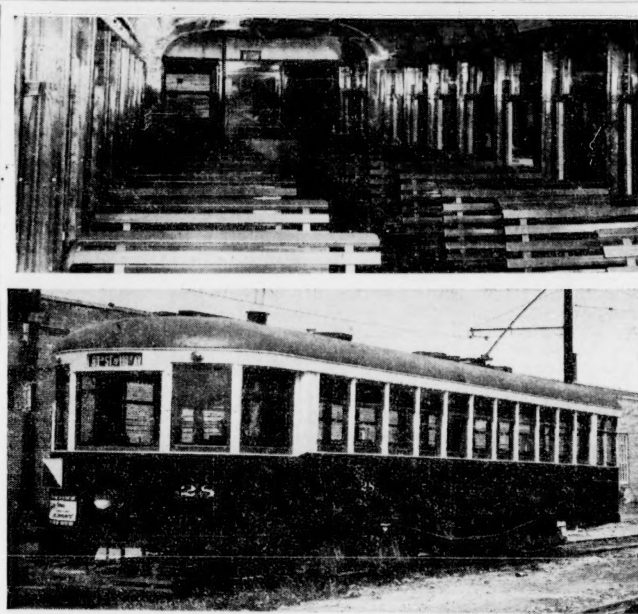

It was thought that smaller builders throughout the prairies might be affected.

Students Planning To Present Play

Alcott's famous book "Little Women" in play form on the stage of the Empire theatre Friday and Saturday, May 17 and 18. Curtain rises at 8:15 p.m. for each performance. The play is directed by Laurier Picard and will reintroduce all the characters of the famous book.

WRECKED CAR IN SERVICE AGAIN: Three years ago street car No. 28 was a smouldering wreck of charred embers and twisted steel, its superstructure destroyed by fire. Today it is back in service through the craftsmanship of the street railway system's car repair shop. The work of renovation was carried out in the periods snatched when repair and renovating of rolling stock was at a minimum. Materials were salvaged from other cars declared obsolete, the chief contributor being the observation car which was the pride of the department for many years. The seats of the observation car were installed in the rebuilt car. While they are not as comfortable as those in use in other cars on the system, they will be replaced as soon as materials are available to provide the regular cushioned seats. This is the second street car that has been rebuilt by staff members. The reconstruction of the car cost approximately $3,000, and the cost of a new car would have been $30,000. The upper picture shows an interior view of the reconditioned car, the lower an exterior view.

Province - Wide Survey Underway On Trade Vacancies for Veterans

A province-wide survey to provide training facilities to trade vacancies is now being conducted by the department of veterans affairs. W. T. Cromb, superintendent of rehabilitation, is in charge of the survey and is being assisted by representatives from Canadian vocational training and the apprenticeship board.

SPEAKING OF the survey, at a press conference Thursday, J. W. Proctor, district administrator for the department of veterans affairs, said the survey was being conducted simply so we can more accurately advise veterans as to opportunities in various fields, and perhaps counsel them against entering a trade that is already overcrowded.

The first step taken by the board was to ascertain the number of veterans at present unemployed and the number of personnel yet to be discharged from the services. This figure in Alberta is set at 23,367. The committee estimated on the basis of past figures that approximately one out of nine would apply for training. The estimated figure lies between 3,000 and 3,500.

THE FIRST INDUSTRY on which the committee has completed its survey is the construction industry. The survey here showed that the construction industry made to the province of Alberta is set at 1,200. It is not anticipated that this number will ask for, or need training. A number of them will be absorbed into industry without having qualified in the true sense of the word.

Employers of labor stress the fact that it should be brought home to young veterans that skilled carpenters are seldom out of work. If a veteran received authorized training, he will find himself safely established even when the building boom is over. For that reason, more should receive C.V.T. training than can be immediately be absorbed.

Alberta's Output Of Oil Declines

Oil wells in Alberta produced less oil in 1945 than in 1944, thus continuing a downward trend for oil figures which commenced in 1942. Production for the last year was 8,053,440 barrels, a decrease of 23,286 barrels from the 1944 figure.

THIS INFORMATION is contained in the 1945 Oil Review issued by the department of economic affairs and prepared by J. J. Irwin.

The all time high production figures are listed as having been attained in 1943 when Alberta's oil wells touched the peak of 10,156,296 barrels, with operators working their wells to the utmost as a part of the wartime effort.

Other oil producing districts than Turner Valley showed an increase in oil output. Production fields listed as showing a heavier production for 1945 than 1944, include the County of Peace River, Lloydminster and Jumping Pound.

THE ATTRACTIVELY printed little booklet is prefaced by a reference to the work of the late Dr. E. H. Bouvier, who died in October, 1945, and whose contributions to the future of the oil industry in Alberta, Canada and the world were of great value.

"Shut-Ins Day", a day on which Canada will pay tribute to her sick and disabled who are confined through illness or disability to their homes, hospitals and institutions, will be observed on Sunday, June 2.

Flight Planned On North Route

Originating in Anchorage, Alaska, a movement to direct public attention toward the desirability of a direct route through Canada and Alaska is proposed in a flight by 21 members of the Anchorage Chamber of Commerce.

Included in composition of the party will be the governor of Alaska, several territorial legislators and men prominent in business circles at Anchorage.

DATE OF the flight has not yet been set but in a communication to the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce it was said to be planned for "the immediate future" so as to precede release of the decision on North Pacific air routes by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The letter expressed confidence that the board's decision will result in provision of an air route to the middle west.

At Wednesday's council meeting of the Edmonton chamber it was decided to extend an invitation to the party to stop over in Edmonton. Detailed itinerary of the proposed flight was not given in the communication.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Smart; Ill-Mannered Boy Bad Risk in Marriage

Faults of Those With Whom We Live Do Not Diminish With Familiarity and Girl Is Ill-Advised to Marry

Lad Whose Manners Are Unendurable

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Do you think it advisable to marry a boy with whom you find fault easily? The fault I find with him are that he is not truthful; he takes bites that are too large when eating, and has many unpleasant mannerisms that bore me to tears. He also smacks when he kisses me and I am a little too bashful to say anything about that, but I have asked him to correct the other faults. He is very smart, with college honors, and I can't understand why he has such undesirable habits.

Do you think he will always be this way? If he aggravates me now by the way he acts, how do you think I would feel after he has years of married life with him? PAT.

ANSWER: Perfectly awful. Pat, perfectly awful. If your boy's manners get on your nerves now when you have to take them only in broken doses, they would run you mad when you had a steady diet of them. For the faults of those with whom we have to live don't diminish with familiarity. They get bigger and bigger and more unendurable, and that is why when one marries one should be all steamed up with illusions and believe that one is getting a fairy prince or an angel for a mate.

OF COURSE, IN TIME one is bound to come down to earth and find out that one has gotten into a mere human being instead of a little tin god for a mate, and that he or she has plenty of faults and foibles and funny little ways and habits to which one has to be contentedly blind in order to keep out of the divorce court. But there is no use in attacking your neck out for trouble by marrying a man whose habits make you shudder even during the days of courtship.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am in love with a girl and want to marry her because I know she would make me when I take her to see my people she shuts up like a clam, saying absolutely nothing and smiles only when it becomes necessary. Also, when I pay her a compliment and she looks down and says, "Oh, don't say those things," I thought a girl liked to be complimented and made love to, and I don't know how to compete with her. Most women say because they don't get enough sweet talk. What I do?

WORRIED GUY.

ANSWER: I think you had better try to find out whether the girl is just shy, or whether she is an introvert before you go any farther with your courtship. It is no use that the reason the girl has nothing to say and acts like a dummy when you take her to visit your family is just because she does not know how to carry off an embarrassing situation. She knows she is being inspected, and that especially your mother and sisters, if you have any, are sizing her up and taking note of every hair on her head, and it takes a lot of nerve to act natural through such an inspection.

BUT IF SHE DOESN'T like to be made love to, or even to be complimented, the matter is more serious. That looks as if she is of a cold and unresponsive temperament, and that kind of a wife is just about as comfortable to live with as a cake of ice. You would never get any response from her that wouldn't choke you to the bone.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Both my wife and I are employed. I contribute practically all of my earnings to keeping the home a going concern. Is it not reasonable to assume that my wife should contribute some of her earnings also to the household expenses?

ANSWER: When both the husband and wife are money-earners, the League's journal and I can help you to decide how to divide the living expenses in accordance with the amount of each one's income.

Why Grow Old?

That chocolate sundae Actress Peggy Knudsen is enjoying looks tempting, doesn't it? But if you have weight to lose, you'd better think about the calorie content of such a sundae before you tackle it.

Make It For Him

By ALICE BROOKS

JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

ICE CREAM is a grand food for most people. It not only contains protein, fat, minerals and vitamins, but is also delicious. It is grand for children and those of normal weight but the reducer must eat sparingly of it and count the calories involved carefully.

In other words, if we approach hot weather the reducer should be careful not to get into believing that she can indulge herself in a mid-afternoon sundae, no matter how delicious, and that one mid-afternoon sundae may well have half your calorie allowance for the day.

Speaking of soda fountain items, you may find the following list useful:

Chocolate ice cream soda, about 400 calories.

Chocolate marshmallow sundae, about 500 calories.

Orange ice, one scoop, about 130 calories.

Chocolate malted milk, about 450 calories.

Lemon ice, one scoop, about 100 calories.

Marshmallow sundae, about 100 calories.

The average bottle of soda pop has from 50 to 100 calories.

Soups are not so innocuous as they seem. A half bowl of cream of celery or asparagus soup has 100 calories. So has a half cup of potato, cream pea or cream corn soup. Four cups of bouillon, one of chicken, four of consommé, one of vegetable or one of clear tomato will give you 100 calories.

UNLESS YOU are unusually conscious and well informed about the content of various foods it is necessary to follow a planned diet or to count your calories, taking into consideration every single mouthful you eat or drink. Otherwise you may fool yourself as to why you are not losing as you wish.

If you want my improved calorie chart send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 36 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Minute Make-Ups

Flatten the midriff! Don't wear open midriff sports dresses unless your midriff is flat and lean. Bending up, down and sideways is a wonderful way to flatten and control that ugly bulge! And practice good posture—that helps, too.

The opening heart lead was won in dummy with the king. As the 10 of hearts was led, a singleton or doubleton, Katz could not cash the ace and try to ruff a heart, and there was the possibility of getting into his hand with a diamond. West, the doubler, probably had the aces of clubs and spades.

Katz wanted to make sure that West got in the lead, so he made the first play of the king of spades from dummy. West won, and while he might have defeated the contract at this point by a diamond, his natural play was to continue with a heart.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

When your young runabout persists in digging holes in the wall paper, making original drawings with crayon and pencil on the walls and cutting scallops in the living-room curtains—what are you going to do then, poor thing?

THERE ARE HALF a dozen reasons why children delight in destroying our possessions. The mother who keeps her child a slave to her own desires, leaves the child no outlet for actions, except of the destructive type. "No, you can't touch that!"—that's the only quiet and act like a good boy," such repressions of his natural energy—without his substitute activities—causes him to run amuck and all he wants to do is to destroy and wreck out streams of dismay and agony from the parent.

SUCH CHILDREN need more freedom, not more punishment and prohibitions. They must not feel that their homes are jails and their parents jailors.

Obviously, they can't destroy the furniture, nor should they have any desire to do so, if they are treated lovingly, get attention from both parents and have plenty of material upon which to practice their desires to cut, to draw and to pound.

FOR THIS PURPOSE there are magazines no longer in use; boxes of var-colored paper, and scraps of material for their scissors-play. The back sides of left-over wall paper make excellent foundations, when tacked to a board, upon which children can make the enormously satisfying arm movements with crayon or paint brush in hand.

THEY SHOULD HAVE some sturdy tools and slim nails and soft wood on which to use them, some clay and some sand for molding and sifting and then their ingenuity will be exercised on these and not on the household possession.

None of this will help if the child is being driven to revenge because of a situation of jealousy, or because he believes he is unloved.

PAINFUL PUNISHMENTS may end the destruction temporarily, but if it stems from such roots. The parent must look at herself and note the influence which behavior and her discipline. If she is honest she may be able to determine why her child is senselessly destructive.

Our leaflet No. 56 "Destructive Tendencies" may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with this request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

It is believed by many people that playing a cornet, trombone or trumpet will cause enlargement of the neck, particularly in girls. The truth is that people who have played these instruments for years show no such results. Scientific tests show that it takes only 5-pound pressure to play low notes on a trumpet, and about 12-pound pressure on the high notes. This is only about a fourth as much pressure as it takes to blow an ordinary navy toy balloon; so it is obvious that there really is not much pressure in the mouth and throat while playing.

All cotton blooms are white on the first day of blooming, on the second day, and fall off the plant on the third day.

Reduce Sentence Of RAF Striker

LONDON, May 16.—(CP)—Wing Cmdr. John Strachey, parliamentarian under-secretary of state, yesterday said in a written reply to a house of commons question that the sentence of AC. J. C. Cymbalair, RAF, had been cut from 10 to five years by the air council. Cymbalair was sentenced to prison for inciting to mutiny in RAF "strikes" in India early this year.

Wing Cmdr. Strachey added that instructions had been sent to all RAF commands that all sentences imposed by courts martial for service offences would be reviewed when one-third of the sentence was served with a view to remitting all or part of the remaining sentence if recommended by prison governors.

Charge Violation Anti-Trust Laws

NEW YORK, May 16.—(AP)—The United States government filed in Federal Court today a civil complaint charging a Canadian nickel company, its New York City subsidiary, and three officers of the firms with violation of anti-trust laws in connection with the importation, manufacture, distribution and sale of nickel ore, nickel and nickel products.

The firms, described by the government as the world's largest producers of nickel, are the International Nickel Company of Canada, Ltd., and its subsidiary, the International Nickel Company, Inc. Individuals named were Robert C. Stanley, John F. Thompson and Paul D. Merica—president, executive vice-president and vice-president, respectively, of both companies.

NEW YORK, May 16.—(CP)—The New York offices of the International Nickel Company of Canada, Ltd., said the following statement was issued today at Copper Cliff, Ont., by R. L. Beattie, vice-president and general manager, in connection with civil anti-trust proceedings in New York City against the company announced by the United States department of justice:

WE HAVE NOT been served with a complaint in the proceedings against the company, but from the reports we have it appears that the United States department of justice is attempting to deprive the International Nickel Company of Canada, Ltd., of its United States subsidiary.

The complaint seems to be that because the nickel we mine in the Dominion is purchased by a large percentage of United States nickel users, our company is to be classed as a monopoly illegal under United States law.

OUR NICKEL is in active competition with the production of other producers, including that of the United States government itself, from the Cuban deposits, and also it is in competition with many other alloying elements. The prices we have charged in the United States during war have been no different from our competitors. Our nickel all comes from a small area in Ontario, near door to the United States market, but there are vast nickel deposits owned by others in many parts of the world.

The company has no agreement with any of its competitors which prevents their competing with it in the sale of nickel in the United States market or elsewhere. The facts are simply that we have produced better nickel and have better served United States users. The company's position in the industry is the result of engineering and metallurgical leadership and of unceasing research over more than half a century to create new alloys of nickel and to expand uses for them.

OUR PLANT property in the United States consists almost entirely of our rolling mill at Huntington, W.Va., and represents barely four per cent of the company's total plant property. Although it accounts for only a small percentage of world nickel sales, it has promoted the production, export and usefulness of Canadian nickel by serving over the past quarter-century as the mainstay in the development of high nickel alloys.

This is a service to industry and to the United States government which only a producer of the raw material could have the incentive to render. This pioneering has helped American industry to make better products for many thousands of industrial and household applications.

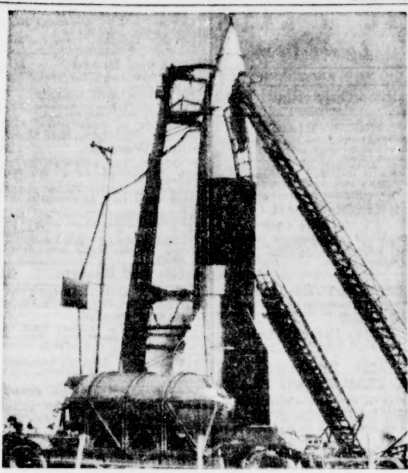

We are confident that, upon our record, the United States courts will vindicate us completely.

All "Sitters" Fully Competent Baby-Sitting Business Started in Edmonton

By J. V. O'NEILL
Edmonton's list of unusual industries added another one to the recently established diaper laundry organized by an enterprising group to relieve mothers of an age-old chore.

THIS TIME it is baby-sitting, and the president, general manager, instigator and chief is a young EXCAF member, M. R. Shorttill, who has been a resident of Edmonton since 1929 and who has a wife and two young children.

Principle of the baby-sitting business is based on thorough organization and the baby-sitting agency now has a staff of 150 experienced sitters ranging from 18 years of age upward, who work on a commission basis and strictly on their own time, Mr. Shorttill explained. Shorttill said he got the idea from similar successful agencies established in Toronto, Ottawa and Vancouver. Parents of young children have welcomed the service in these cities, he said, adding that he thought the idea would soon spread to many cities and communities throughout the country.

THE IDEA behind the service is to provide competent care for children while parents, who otherwise would have to remain home, may go out together for an evening's entertainment unencumbered by the unpredictable infant.

All sitters are thoroughly investigated for their competency in the handling of children, Mr. Shorttill stated, and his agency is registered as a business with the city authorities.

This type of service is no fad or fancy, and I think it will become a permanent institution in every city as time goes along," he said.

THE SITTER goes to the home and receives the detailed instructions of the parents, and contact with the agency office is made with the sitter every two hours to see that everything is in good order.

In business some ten days now, with considerable sitting accomplished, Mr. Shorttill interprets as a good augury for the launching of his unusual business in the interests of both his own organization and Edmonton parents.

200 U.S. Soldiers Murdered by Nazis

WASHINGTON, May 16.—(AP)—Evidence that approximately 200 American prisoners of war were murdered by the Germans in a hitherto unrecorded incident of the 1944 battle of the Bulge was reported yesterday by United States army officials. Members of the civil affairs division war crimes branch said the Americans were slain Dec. 22, 1944, at Le Glouze, Belgium. This was 10 miles west of Malmédy, where 115 American soldier-prisoners were executed six days earlier. Officials said evidence of the newly-discovered war crimes was uncovered during preparations for the trial of 24 Wehrmacht veterans at Dachau, Germany, for the Malmédy slayings.

Big Floating Dock Leaves Alexandria

ALEXANDRIA, May 16.—(Reuters)—The great Royal Navy floating dock, one of the features of Alexandria harbor, left here yesterday for Bermuda. Maritime measures were taken by port authorities to enable the dock and its tugs to pass through the harbor mouth. The dock was brought to Alexandria in 1939 and did service during the war.

Well-Known Edmonton Veterans Are Given Naval Posts Here

Appointment of five well-known Edmonton veterans of service with the Royal Canadian Navy in the war years to officer-posts in the Edmonton navy establishment, HMCS Nonsuch, was announced Thursday by Lt. Cmdr. Rodney Pike, commanding officer.

RECEIVING the appointments were Lt. Cmdr. George Manning, Lt. Stuart Fraser, Lt. Cmdr. Harry Pardee, Lt. Cmdr. Lyk Hoar and Cmdr. Walter McKenzie.

Lt. Cmdr. Hoar becomes executive officer on the ship. During the war he served as first lieutenant on the corvette Port Arthur when it sank an enemy submarine in the Mediterranean. He saw six years service.

Lt. Cmdr. Manning, Lt. Cmdr. Pardee and Lt. Fraser each became divisional officers. Lt. Cmdr. Manning was a captain of a Castle class corvette and also served in the "action room" of the navy's Atlantic command at Halifax.

Lt. Cmdr. Pardee was torpedo officer on HMCS Iroquois, a British class destroyer. Lt. Fraser was torpedo officer on HMCS Asinibolae, a corvette which saw considerable duty on the North Atlantic and the English channel.

Author of a widely-recognized medical paper on Immersion Foot, a frequent problem in the case of shipwreck survivors and others forced to spend long periods in the water, Lt. Cmdr. McKenzie becomes principal medical officer on Nonsuch. He served on HMCS Ontario, one of Canada's newest cruisers, and many other ships at sea. He did extensive work with shipwreck survivors in Newfoundland.

Lt. Cmdr. Pike announced that the navy is still seeking personnel. Particularly required are ratings with previous navy experience. He pointed out that the opportunity exists for such ratings to spend the summer months, May to September, on a ship at sea. To date six University of Alberta navy officers have agreed to take part in this latter plan and it is expected that most navy ships now at the west coast will be sent this summer by reserve personnel.

Honorary patron of the organization is Viscount Alexander, governor general of Canada, while David H. Gibson, C.B.E., Toronto, has been returned to office as president.

Unless Grain Imports Boosted 9 Million Germans in British Zone Face Starvation Ration

HERFORD, Germany, May 16.—(AP)—British military food administrators today warned 9,000,000 persons in the British occupation zone in Germany may be placed on starvation rations of 500 calories or less daily unless there are substantial grain imports within the next few weeks.

GERMAN FOOD rations in the British zone now are at the starvation level of 1,650 a day.

The administrators told a press conference the further reduction might be necessary unless additional food is imported between now and this year's harvest. A military government health officer said the present ration scale is not sufficient to maintain health over a period of time.

He said it was expected the overall death rate, which rose sharply in April from 12 per 1,000 per annum to 14 per 1,000 per annum, would show further severe increases during the summer.

THE MAJORITY have until now been able to avert starvation by drawing on stocks accumulated before the end of the war, a food official said, but "these stocks are now definitely exhausted" and Germans in urban districts will have to live entirely on rations.

He said each German on normal rations eats:

Four and a half slices of bread, one square inch of meat, one tablespoon of ersatz coffee, one quarter pint of skimmed milk, one tablespoonful of vegetable, one half cubic inch of fat, a half teaspoonful of jam, and a half teaspoonful of sugar.

The normal consumer now receives no potatoes.

"WHAT!
I CATCH ALLIGATORS
FOR A LIVING?"

No wonder she is astonished at the idea. Yet, catching alligators has something to do with filling her pay envelope.

In a little tropical town, where the sun stands straight overhead at noon, alligator skins are a source of income. But while they can grow fine alligators, they cannot make paper. And in this far away town you will find Canadian paper being used for printing, wrapping and stationery . . . just as it is in many other places throughout the world.

So the alligator skins are shipped to Canada to make belts and bags, and this provides dollars for the tropical country to buy paper from us.

That's why the little lady who types letters all day for the paper company is deeper into the alligator-catching business than she suspects. She's in the banana and pineapple business, too . . . and many others she never thinks about.

Everyone who buys or sells merchandise abroad makes jobs in Canada. That is why we have a Foreign Trade Service in the Department of Trade and Commerce. It maintains able trade commissioners in 26 countries, and an experienced export and import staff at head office, to collect the most up-to-date information on foreign markets and give practical help to every business that wishes to buy or sell in other countries.

City's Air Cadets Lose Rifle Trophy

OTTAWA, May 16.—(CP)—The Norwood, Man., squadron of the Air Cadet League has been awarded the Dominion challenge trophy presented annually to the outstanding air cadet rifle team. The "A" team of the Norwood "All Bocking" squadron had an average score of 23.19 and took the shield from the Edmonton squadron, winner in 1944 and 1945. In second place this year was the Newmarket, Ont., squadron. Third place went to the Moonbeam, Sask. squadron with a score of 22.5. A total of 43 teams participated.

But then . . . so are YOU . . . for at least 35 cents out of every dollar you earn comes because Canada buys and sells goods in other countries. Stop and think what it means. Over one-third of your income—more than you spend on food for the family—comes from Canadian export and import trade.

HOW YOU CAN CREATE GOOD TIMES

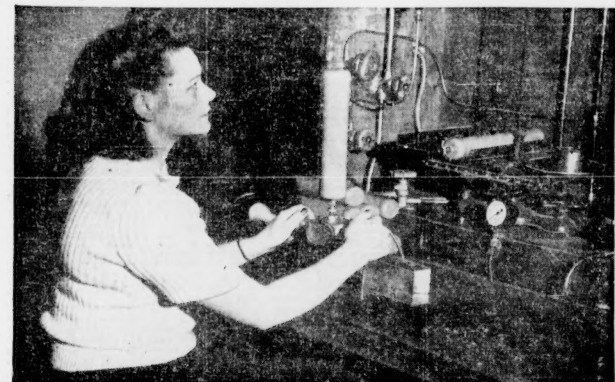

Because foreign trade plays such a big part in your life, and makes jobs and wages for you . . . of course you will want to see it grow.

Therefore if you have to wait a while, because merchandise you want is being sold abroad . . . your patience will help. And if you happen to be helping to produce any article for foreign trade, put your best into it . . . for it is a little part of Canada. That will help, too.

35 CENTS OF EVERY $100 YOU GET . . . COMES FROM CANADA'S TRADE ABROAD

SURPLUS SHELL CASINGS MADE INTO BOMBS TO KILL BUGS: J. H. Black, former RCAF squadron leader, heads company employing ex-servicemen and former war workers in using surplus war material to make insecticide bomb. He is seen testing one (left) with Jean Watters, who as a civilian worked with him in the air force, looking on. Girl welder, Elvira Bradshaw, a British war bride, works on containers—former shell casings.

Capitalize on Knowledge of Service

Veterans Blitz Bugs with Old Shells

By RICHARD SHERIDON

TORONTO, Ont., May 16.—The ultimate in postwar rehabilitation—the conversion by ex-service personnel of former war material into a product for civilian needs—has happened right in Toronto.

IN A NARROW, one-storey warehouse building on King St. near Sherbourne St., three former air force officers have started a manufacturing business which uses not only surplus shell casings as its principal raw material, but also employs practically all ex-service men and former war workers on its payroll of 27.

Capitalizing upon knowledge absorbed while in uniform, the trio of ex-officers has perfected a simple, hand-operated foolproof "bug blitzer" which is expected to be a boon to the public indoors and outdoors in the never-ending war against such irritating insects as houseflies, moths, cockroaches and mosquitoes.

THE MEN BEHIND the Infant Industry which is called Aerosol Dispensers Ltd. are E. J. Black,

Harry Clappison and Dr. J. H. Baillie. Black, a former squadron leader, was officer in charge of refrigeration and ventilation, construction and engineering. He is president and general manager of the company. Clappison held the rank of air commodore and was Black's commanding officer. Dr. Baillie, who was RCAF director of hygiene and preventive, is medical consultant to the firm. He too was a squadron leader.

The insecticide bomb, which according to company officials is the first of its kind to be completely manufactured in Canada, is built principally from two-inch mortar shell casings welded together to form an airtight container with a valve at one end.

THE CONTAINER is filled with aerosol, a mixture of DDT and pyrethrum and Freon liquid gas.

Black trained all his employees with the exception of two—the machinists. One of his welders is a British war bride.

Dr. Baillie lauded the ingenious methods which Black invented for filling the containers. Even with expensive equipment running into the thousands of dollars, a 20-per cent loss of Freon is not unusual in necessary required handling of it. The equipment built by Black is almost loss-proof and cost about $500.

THE COMPLETED article resembles in many respects the insecticide dispenser used by the U.S. Army in the South Pacific.

DR. BAILLIE declared that the insecticide has no harmful effect on humans if directions are followed. During experiments conducted by the army, men were exposed for an hour a day for weeks at a time to a similar vapor, but with a DDT strength 15 times as great, and the reaction was harmless.

Toronto Probes Black Marketing

TORONTO, May 16.—(CP)—An enquiry into the meat situation in the Toronto area opened yesterday before Commissioner J. D. McNish with witnesses telling of using "white slips" and "tags" to collect money as payment for over-calling meat and shouls of "liar" coming from the body of the court room as one witness testified.

THE COMMISSIONER was appointed in an effort to break the impasse in the local meat situation and to ascertain what, if any, hold the black market has on the distribution and sale of meat in this area.

One witness, Mike Stepanov, was twice called a "liar" by persons he named as former employers who had asked him to collect money, ranging from 70 cents to as high as $100 through use of the slips and tags.

The witness was interrupted first by Izzy Politsky and again by Sydney Brusky, local dealers, causing the commissioner to caution against further outbursts in the court room.

Stepanov told of having been employed by another firm for about a year and of having been given invoices and "little tag tickets" marking the "over" price.

"When they sold something over the ceiling price, they gave me the tickets and said 'if somebody stops you throw the tickets away so they won't find them in your pocket,'" he said.

HE SAID ALSO that in one downtown store there was no bill for the meat but he was told to "just collect so much money." In each case, he added, the amount was approximately $100.

Brusky, one of the local dealers, told the commissioner "we have had a lot of strange cases down in the last month looking for beef but we have not sold to anyone with whom we haven't been dealing right along."

Mr. Politsky, the other dealer accused by Stepanov of black-market activities, testified Canada Packers had offered him 18 cents for meat for which the ceiling was 21 cents. Prior to the meat shortage, he declared, he could get 18, 19, and 20 cents.
